

Architect: ZGF Architects, Portland, OR
Design Firm: Anderson Krygier, Inc., Portland, OR
Number of pieces of art: 170 + pieces
Number of shadow boxes: 18
Number of tchotchkes: 175+

"As we were looking for things to get kids up and out of bed for our seek and find idea, we would share our ideas with the Olee team. They were always very responsive, flexible and creative in what they designed. They would take our ideas and run with it and come back with something amazing. We were always happy with what they presented to us." -Jennifer Tonkovich, Director of Pediatric Services at Beacon Children's Hospital

Seek and Find Positive Distraction Artwork

Art collages containing high resolution printed images & 3D items displayed in clear boxes engage children in pediatric settings with interactive activity and encourages them to get ambulatory. The "SEEK and FIND" game changes every day so children that have longer stays can look for something new every time. Olee Creative prints the artwork using Class A fire-rated materials and supplies the boxes and hardware for mounting. Collages are installed at child-height. Olee Creative designers help with the selection of the images which complement the theme and colors of the space to make a fun and eye-catching display.